JULY 10, 2018 VOLUME 9, NUMBER 20

North Haverhill Fair Features Busy Schedule

It is almost time for the 74th annual North Haverhill Fair. This family friendly event is organized by an all volunteer board of directors along with about 300 other volunteers who help with the many, many events during the five day event from July 25 - 29.

Opening day of the fair will feature the first of two Demolition Derby nights with mini vans and the larger six and eight cylinder cars. Thayer Stage will be busy with the 4-H Style Show followed by the RoadTrash Band. In the covered Bishop Arena there is youth steer pulling and then the mini pullers will take over. There is also a Fiesta Ride Special for $22 with rides from 5 -10 PM.

Another ride special is on Thursday evening, this time for $25. Thayer Stage will again be busy with the North Haverhill's Got Talent competition, and the Little Miss North Haverhill Fair question and talent portion of the program. Thursday will also feature the Log Loader competition with some new tasks for these hard workers. There will also be five classes of oxen showing their strength at Bishop Arena.

Friday gets underway at noon when there will be a 30% discount on ride tickets until 5 PM. Plus admission is reduced to just $8 for that same time frame. As an added bonus five new tablets will be raffled off to those who pay for their admission during those hours. Also during the day will be pony pulling activities. Friday night has the four cylinder Demolition Derby and the Power Wheels demo for the little ones. The crowning event on Friday will be the concert by country artists Runaway June. Their charted songs include "Wild West" and "Lipstick".

Saturday offers a full day of entertainment. It begins with the Rich Kinder Memorial Lumberjack contest in the Dellinger Ring. Right next door will be another full day of pulling events at Bishop Arena as the horses will pull in one, two and three horse teams. Over at the pulling track it is tractor day as antique, farm and enhanced tractors all take their turns and there is even a tandem class for a change of pace. The big event for the night happens at Thayer Stage as Tusk, the ultimate Fleetwood Mac tribute band takes the stage at 8:00 pm to play all those classic tunes.

The final day of the fair is also packed with entertainment as more horse pulling events take place. Other horses will be entered into the annual horse show. If you want even more horse power go to the pulling arena for the 4x4 pull featuring everything from stock trucks to doodlebugs to super powered modified vehicles tearing down the clay track. Thayer Stage will also be busy with two different bands. First will be Michael Vincent Band playing blues at 1:00 PM. They will be followed by Wendigo at 3:00 PM with rocking sounds from the 1960's to the 2000's. Another Fiesta Show ride special is also available from noon 0 5 pm for $25.

Those are not the only ways of being entertained at this year's North Haverhill Fair. There is also the Adventure Tent will daily special events. The Barnyard Pals tent has live animals to see and ask about. New this year will be The Zoo Show with multiple shows each day of some unique animal species. Of course this is a 4-H fair so there are demos or shows every day from local hard working 4-H members as they vie for prize money and the chance to advance to other bigger shows.

The North Haverhill Fair is located at 1299 Dartmouth College Highway in North Haverhill. Daily general admission is $12 for adults and children 12 & under are free. There is no charge for parking. For more details go to www.nohaverhillfair.com or follow us on FaceBook.

Cider House Cafe

by Gary Scruton

I would guess that this area is not much different from other areas in this country where there are certain businesses that are only open during certain times of the year. There can be many reasons for this but this is certainly not the place for that discussion. Instead let me discuss, or write about, one of those businesses that opened for the season just a few weeks ago, and will close again for the year in a few short months.

The Cider House Cafe is part of the complex that makes up Windy Ridge Orchard. Located on Route 116 in North Haverhill the Cafe is run by the daughter of the orchard's owners. But more than that, Sheila has also employed some special people to make this dining spot a very enjoyable destination.

Not only is the Cider House Cafe seasonal, but they also only serve breakfast and lunch. We went up to Windy Ridge on a warm Sunday morning to see what treats we could find. There are plenty of seating options to choose from, both inside and outside. And there were some who picked their spot before ordering and others, like us, who ordered first and then sat down.

As mentioned we were there for breakfast so we looked on that side of the laminated menu. Janice decided on the Farmer's Breakfast. It consisted of two eggs (scrambled), 3 slices of bacon (perfectly crisped), grilled potatoes and a half dozen smaller slices of toast (Cinnamon raisin). That meal also came with a cup of coffee and a donut with a sugar shaker.

My choice was a Cider Makers Breakfast, a stack of three buttermilk pancakes along with a sausage patty on the side as well as locally made maple syrup. That meal also came with coffee and one of those freshly made donuts.

The routine at Cider House Cafe is that you go to the counter, place your order, get your donuts in a basket along with the shaker, grab a couple of cups and get your coffee from one of those big coffee pumpers. There were three varieties of coffee on this morning. You also get a candle stick sort of table ornament with a number or letter that identifies you to the staff. With all that in hand we went back outside to the front porch and took a nice shady table for two with a view of the distant Green Mountains. (We also noticed a sign that identified the mountains we were looking at.)

When our food was ready it was walked out to us by a member of the staff. She even made an extra trip back to us when she realized we had not remembered to get silverware and napkins.

It can be hard to tell a story about the food when it is so well cooked. My pancakes were fluffy, the syrup was real, the sausage was tasty, the coffee was hot, and the donut was all I remembered it to be. Janice felt the same about her breakfast. Nothing was overcooked, or under cooked, and it was of ample quantity and quality. Overall, just right!

As we were finishing up our coffees Sheila came out to chat with us for a minute and to pick up our plates, utensils, etc. So even though there is not really a wait staff at Cider House Cafe, you are well served, and well taken care of while enjoying a fine meal.

Two other interesting notes I want to pass along. If you sit out front, be aware that birds do fly by. One bird took a bit of a short cut and I truly believe it was no more than a foot away from my ear as it went by while we were seated out front. The second personal note is that going to Cider House Cafe always makes me remember that this is the place we had breakfast the day the very first Trendy Times was printed. Thanks Sheila, family, and staff for the food and the memories.

Our entire meal, before tip, was $18.91.

Cohase Chamber to Host 7th Annual Garden Tour & Tea

The 7th Annual Cohase Garden Tour, "Art in the Garden" is scheduled for Sunday July 15th, 2018, from 11 AM-3:30 PM. Tickets are $20 and can be purchased by cash or check the day of the event at Denny Park, on Main Street in Bradford Vt, starting at 10:30 AM. Denny Park is adjacent to downtown Bradford, at the north end of Main Street. Tickets are also available for purchase online by credit card at www.cohase.org.

This year's event features art and artists - both artists working in gardens, as well as the gardens of artists! Each property has unique features that reflect the interests and styles of their owners and offer visitors a beautiful journey across the back roads of Vermont and New Hampshire with lovely views along the way. One gardener, who also arranges flowers arrangements commercially, has built an adorable and charming "teahouse" from old barn beams, large glass windows, and a charming array of antique furnishings. It'll be a great source of inspiration for gardeners thinking about building something similar, as it's "on trend" for the kind of "she-shed" seen in many publications of late! Artists will be featured in two gardens nearby each other on a typical Vermont country road in the hills. Old homes and barns inhabit this area, and the drive to their location is very scenic! One garden is the product of a poet and a painter, and their barn is an artist's studio, which will be busy with a variety of local artists and their work to enjoy (and even purchase!) Paintings, pottery, jewelry, and woodworking are featured at this location. Nearby is a lovely traditional Vermont Cape with elegant gardens, where a local photographer will be displaying his work, as well as a non-profit organization that helps kids become interested in gardening.

Crossing over to New Hampshire from Newbury, Vermont will bring you to a country home where the gardens have been designed and tended by a New Hampshire Master Gardener. The style here is a combination of formal and cottage-style gardens in orderly beds. As in other locations, there will be a painter here working to capture its beauty and exhibiting their work. More painters will be at the historic Alumni Hall in Haverhill Corner where the Tea will be served from 1:00-3:00 pm. The tea will offer light and delicious fare and drinks at the home of Court Street Arts, which is included with the price of each ticket. Visit www.cohase.org for more information and updates as the event draws closer! The Tour is sponsored this year by WYKR, Odell Insurance, Blackmount Equipment, Wells River Chevrolet, Wells River Savings Bank, North Country Organics, North Haverhill Agway and Bank of New Hampshire.

NH Legislative Special Session – July 25?

On July 11, Governor Sununu will be going to the Executive Council to obtain permission to call a SPECIAL SESSION of the Legislature to deal with the ramifications of the recent Supreme Court decision regarding the online sales tax issue. If approved by the Executive Council, July 25 appears to be the best summer date to gather legislative members together to pass critical legislation to assist New Hampshire's businesses with the impacts resulting from the South Dakota v. Wayfair court decision.

The South Dakota v. Wayfair decision provides states the ability to collect sales tax from their residents who make online purchases, and requires online retailers to impose those taxes on their shoppers. NH is very proud to have NO sales tax, and our retail business community thrives as a result of the no sales tax environment. To simply ask retailers to collect taxes for dozens of other states is a huge burden on NH business, and will most likely jeopardize their continued ability to do business online with out-of-state customers.

This decision will most likely force NH businesses to enforce other state, county, and city tax laws or tax ordinances when residents in those locations purchase goods online from NH business.

According to NH Attorney General Gordon MacDonald, "The South Dakota v. Wayfair decision potentially exposes New Hampshire retailers to sales tax regimes (structures) imposed by 10,000 or more jurisdictions" throughout the United States. The fiscal impacts to NH retailers will be enormous. Simply placing into effect and having to continuously update the necessary tax structure software for all these entities will be a significant cost. Surely these costs along with enforcement and auditing will be passed to customers through increased costs. There is also concern among the NH retail community as to when this decision will be implemented and if retailers will be accountable for all future sales from this date forward.

There are many underlining difficulties that can arise from decisions such as this. States with sales taxes have differing special considerations or exemptions. For example, "a dog collar purchased online may be a taxable item in one state, but another may consider that dog collar exempt if it is for a service dog." How will NH business determine or know and track all these exemptions across our country? And, why should NH residents be placed in a position of supporting out-of-state tax structures?

Governor Sununu has stated, "If you try to come into our state, force our businesses to collect their sales tax, you're going to have the fight of your life." I am disappointed with the South Dakota v Wayfair decision, and I will support the Governor's efforts and any necessary legislative action to preserve NH's thriving business community.

Respectfully Submitted,
NH Representative

Stepmothers Certainly Carry A Tune at OCT

by Gary Scruton

The second performance of the season has now hit the boards at Old Church Theater. There are, as always, some special aspects to the current performance. In this case one of the biggest points of interest is that it is being directed by the author. Stepmothers was written by teacher Melissa Mann. It was first performed a few years ago by her students. It has now been re-performed by some of the very active members of Old Church Theater, along with some younger members of the family, and several new young performers. There is a total of 18 cast members that help make this musical a hit. During the performance we attended the director revealed that this play started as a dream, and has now turned into a dream.

The theme of Stepmothers is to retell to Mr. Grimm himself, the other side of the story. The audience is entertained with the views of how the story really happened in the case of Cinderella, Hansel & Gretel, and Snow White as told by the Stepmothers. It makes for some great laugh lines, some chin rubbing, and even the occasional "uh-huh" moment.

The three performers of the Stepmothers are great in their roles as three friends with an agenda to set the story straight. They also combine for a great original song to help along their story. Another great performance is turned in by the Fairy God Mother herself. Her outfit notwithstanding, the lines are well written and delivered just as well.

One other portion of this performance that needs to be highlighted is when Hansel & Gretel along with their two friends get a chance to perform their song around the dinner table. The song helped move along the story of their plans to deal with their soon to be Stepmother.

Once again it seems that Old Church Theater has hit upon a great script. They have also been able to fill the roles with performers who do justice to the characters they represent. And they have even been able to showcase the singing prowess of some of those actors. Another step forward for this group who continue to work hard to entertain those who visit them in their temporary facility. They also continue to work hard to raise money for the revitalization of the Old Church Theater so that they can return in a few short years to a revamped and updated facility ready to host events year round. This is a must see performance, make your reservations early to insure you get a seat.

Old Church Theater Casting September Comedy

Bradford, VT: Old Church Theater has put out a casting call for its September production "As Long As We Both Shall Live", a comedy murder-mystery by Sean Grennan. The production will be staged at the group's new theater at 176 Waits River Road in Bradford the two middle weekends of September. Co-directing the play will be Ken Hullican and Athene Chadwick.

Casting will take place at the group's theater at 176

Waits River Road in Bradford, just past Farmway, on July 14 and 15 at 2pm. There is no need to prepare for the audition, and all are welcome to attend.

The story is about the wedding plans of the leading female and her fiancé's disapproving mother and the wedding planner, who is murdered at the rehearsal dinner. This is a comedy "whodunit" with lots of delicious characters for actors to relish.: Needed are 3 men

The Ryegate and Newbury Historical Societies will present "A Stroll Through Time –the People and Places of the Bayley-Hazen, on July 25 at 7:00 PM at the Presbyterian Church, 48 S Bayley-Hazen Rd, Ryegate Corner, VT.

In 1776 George Washington ordered the construction of a 90-mile road from the frontier outposts of Newbury and Ryegate Vermont that would serve as an entrance into Canada in order to allow troops to make an attack there possible.

Later known as the Bayley-Hazen Military Road after the two men who were in charge of its construction, the project was abandoned several miles short of the Canadian border at a high, lonely notch in the northern Green Mountains.

The road was never used for military purposes, but after the Revolutionary War it provided a pathway for the earliest European pioneers. Wells River, Ryegate, Peacham, Walden and many other towns were first settled by travelers on the Road.

The illustrated talk will combine an arm-chair tour of the 240 year old route and introduce the audience to many of the historic characters who have lived and worked along the road: from "Indian Joe" after whom Joe's Pond got its name, to the acclaimed writer Wallace

A Stroll Through Time –the People and Places of the Bayley-Hazen Road

Stegner.

The talk will be presented by Alan Boye who has retraced the entire route on foot. Boye is a Professor Emeritus of Humanities at Northern Vermont University at Lyndon where he teaches writing and literature. He is a former commentator for Vermont Public Radio, on which he had a series, "Just Walking the Hills of Vermont." That series resulted in a book by the same name. In 1995 he retraced the 1,000 mile trek of the Northern Cheyenne from Oklahoma to the Upper Great Plains. This resulted in his book "Holding Stone Hands: On the Trail of the Cheyenne Exodus." His articles have appeared in Vermont Life, Vermont Magazine and Yankee Magazine, among others. He's an active member of his community as well as a board member and former President of the Barnet Historical Society.

The program is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

One New Man-Sabbath Services Celebrates one year

It is hard to imagine that it has been a year since the Lord has called us to have Sabbath Service. What a blessing to be with those who worship Yeshua as their Messiah. It was a step of faith to begin a worship service on Saturday, but we knew God was calling us to do this. And how blessed we are. We have met so many new friends and family. We have people traveling up to 2 ½ hours to be with us. People are coming from southern NH, Maine and Vermont to join us as we worship YAHWEH. We are blessed.

We meet at New Life Christian Center at 10:30

starting with the blowing of the shofars, followed by a time of praise and prayer. We then study the Torah. We conclude our time together with a meal and fellowship. We are humbled by this calling and pray it will be a blessing to others.

As we study the Word, we recognize and observe the feasts of Adonai, including Passover and Sukkot. We gather together to celebrate Rosh Chodesh at the sighting of the new moon. (Please call for dates and times.)

If you would like more information about One New Man Ministries, please call 603-444-1230.

Ask A Muslim Anything

How do you deal with all the sound and fury in our nation about Islam and its place in our communities? On Tuesday, July 17 at 7 p.m. the Haverhill Library Association will host a special program at Alumni Hall in Haverhill Corner called "Ask a Muslim Anything".

Robert Azzi, our speaker, is a photojournalist, columnist and public speaker who lives in Exeter NH. An Arab American Muslim, he writes on issues of Identity, Conflict, and Islam, particularly as they apply in the Middle East and the Global South. Born in New Hampshire, he's lived in Beirut, Cairo, Athens, Jeddah and New York. Although he returned to the Granite State in the late 1980s, he continues to travel to work with Middle East clients and friends on a regular basis.

During his travels, Azzi has discovered that most people, even those critical of Islam and Muslims, when engaged in small scale or in one-one-one conversation, are willing to listen and engage with Muslims. His engagement occurs in what are perceived to be safe places such as houses of worship, libraries, schools, and civic organizations. He speaks not as a scholar or academic but as a neighbor, fellow citizen and person of faith.

Azzi has traveled throughout New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Maine at the invitation of local communities. He speaks about his life, what it's like to be Muslim in America, how he came to convert to Islam, about the religion of Islam and its history – especially in America – and about the Middle East, terrorism and associated political and social issues

Haverhill Library is sponsoring this open opportunity to converse on this sometimes controversial topic with a knowledgeable and experienced speaker in a safe and familiar setting. Library Trustees believe that the program will stimulate empathy and critical thinking and will be well received by residents of all ages—from senior citizens to junior high students. We welcome all local residents in the area to this program at Alumni Hall in Haverhill Corner at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, July 17. Admission is free. Voluntary donations to the Library and Alumni Hall will be accepted.

New Orleans Funky Brass LIVE! at The Colonial

Your cultural center in the White Mountains, the newly renovated Colonial Theatre in Bethlehem, NH, will present a New Orleans institution, the Rebirth Brass Band Thursday July 12. Presented with the support of Mascoma Band, Franconia Co-work and Samuel Adams Brewing, the Rebirth Brass Band boasts 10 albums and has traveled the world.

Whether seen on HBO's Treme or at their legendary Tuesday night gig at The Maple Leaf, Grammy-winning Rebirth Brass Band is a true New Orleans institution. Formed in 1983 by the Frazier brothers, the band has evolved from playing the streets of the French Quarter to playing festivals and stages all over the world. While committed to upholding the tradition of brass bands, they've also extended themselves into the realms of funk and hip-hop to create their signature sound. "Rebirth can be precise whenever it wants to," says The New York Times, "but it's more like a party than a machine. It's a working model of the New Orleans musical ethos: as long as everybody knows what they're doing, anyone can cut loose." In the wake of the sometimes-stringent competition amongst New Orleans brass bands, Rebirth is the undisputed leader of the pack, and they show no signs of slowing down. Their influence reaches across genre's with accolades from the Red Hot Chili Peppers to Ani DiFranco who enthused "...saw the Rebirth Brass Band playing at the Maple Leaf Bar on Oak Street, and it changed my life. It was one of these transcendent musical experiences."

General Admission tickets for the 8 PM LIVE! at The Colonial performance are $33; Colonial, Catamount Arts and St. Kieran's Community Center for the Arts, Gem Theater and Loading Dock members $28. Reserved Front & Centers seats (available on-line only) are $43. Tickets are available in advance while they last at Maia Papaya Cafe, Bethlehem, or Catamount Arts, St. Johnsbury or www.BethlehemColonial.org. The doors open at 7 PM with refreshments including beer and wine on the patio. For more information about this or upcoming live events find The Colonial on Facebook (Facebook.com/BethlehemColonial), follow The Colonial on twitter (@ColonialNH), visit the Colonial on line or tune in North Country Community Radio, WZNC, broadcasting from atop the historic Colonial Theatre at 99.9 on the FM dial.

This evening of great New Orleans jazz is made possible with additional support from New Hampshire Public Radio, Vermont Public Radio, The Cold Mountain Café, The Wayside Inn, The New Hampshire State Council on the Arts, The New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, The Jane B. Cook 1992 Charitable Trust, and The Colonial's promotional partner, Catamount Arts.

Brandy

It is of great sorrow, to inform all of Brandy's friends of her passing from lung cancer

Brandy hardly missed a day in 11 years. A true greeter for our customers and her new made friends. She was a great example of a breed that has been misunderstood. She surely will be missed. Winston & Jane Oakes, our employees and customers who spoiled her daily.

The Littleton Food Co-op plans Partner of the Month Fair!

Littleton Food Co-op employee, Audrey Rowlette, happily presents a Partner of the Month check to Bob Rochelle, Vice President of the Littleton Habitat for Humanity chapter.

LITTLETON, N.H.-The Littleton Food Co-op's Partner of the Month program highlights a different, local (or local chapter of) non-profit organization or community project each month. This partnership shines the spotlight on a variety of organizations in our region by inviting representatives into the store for educational events; by inviting customers to 'round-up' their purchases at the cash registers; and by donating $1 from each pizza sold on Friday evenings to the partner.

The Littleton Food Co-op is inviting eligible organizations to participate in a Partner of the Month Fair at the Littleton Food Co-op. Local non-profits may become eligible by submitting an email explaining what their organization does and why it would make a good partner to hr@littletoncoop.org by July 31, 2018. Once received, The Littleton Food Co-op will invite eligible organizations to participate. Space is limited. Eligibility criteria is local, secular and non-political.

The Partner of the Month Fair will be held on Tuesday August 21 from 3:30-5:30 pm in the Littleton Food Co-op's café. The fair will be an opportunity for the public to meet these organizations and to cast a vote for 2019's partners.

Member-owned Littleton Food Co-op serves the community by providing high quality food, offered at a fair price, with outstanding service. Everyone is welcome to shop and anyone is welcome to join. Located at the intersection of Cottage Street and Route 302 (exit 41 off I-93), the Littleton Food Co-op is open daily, 7 a.m.-9 p.m. For more information or to become a member, please visit www.littletoncoop.com, cal 603-444-2800 or just stop by!

Marcie Hornick Files for Grafton County Attorney

Littleton, NH – Marcie Hornick is seeking the nomination for Grafton County Attorney. Marcie formally filed for Grafton County Attorney on June 15th - the position currently being held by Grafton County Attorney Lara Saffo who announced she was not seeking another term. Marcie is the Managing Attorney of the Littleton office of the New Hampshire Public Defender covering the areas of northern Grafton County and all of Coos County and has been with the NH Public Defender for the past 15 years.

“I want to earn your trust and your vote to be your next Grafton County Attorney and feel honored to be running. I have represented indigent people in probably thousands of cases ranging from homicides and sexual assault crimes, physical assaults, theft, driving cases and everything in between. I’ve represented people of all ages and have witnessed the anguish and pain and the overall toll that crime takes on individuals, their families and the community - as well as to those in law enforcement,” stated Hornick.

“In my role as Managing Attorney, I am the liaison between the Courts and various community agencies and our office. I have the skills and experience to step into the Grafton County Attorney’s office and immediately pick up a caseload; I can easily envision a seamless transition having worked closely with the attorneys in that office as well as having had jury trials and numerous other hearings in the Grafton County Court-house,” said Hornick.

Marcie’s experience with the NH Public Defender’s office makes her a natural fit to be Grafton County Attorney. She has been on the hiring committees for new attorneys, administrative staff and other managing attorney positions throughout the state. Marcie has also assisted in new lawyer training. Marcie has the managerial and organizational skills, real trial experience and is accustomed to managing a diverse heavy caseload.

“I believe that communication, collaboration, respect and trust are paramount for this position and I will work to bridge any gaps that may exist in areas across the county within the various communities and law enforcement agencies,” stated Hornick. “I believe in accountability but also in the various alternative sentencing options that address or take into consideration issues involving substance misuse, mental health and others. I have worked with our county’s current Drug Court, Mental Health Court, Veterans Court Track and both youth and adult alternative sentencing programs - much of which were implemented by current County Attorney Saffo - and I plan to build and improve on that strong foundation.”

Marcie is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and received her law degree from the University of Maine in 2002. She is currently the Grafton County Governor for the NH Bar Association and was appointed by former Governor Maggie Hassan to the Judicial Selection Commission whose task it is to make recommendations for Judges on the Circuit, Superior and Supreme Courts.

Marcie was an original member of the Statewide Veterans Involved Justice Task Force which successfully sought to create Veterans Courts across NH in anticipation of the return of veterans from the Afghanistan and Iraq conflicts. She was also part of the early discussions about the creation of a felony level drug court 14 years ago and has since been a member of the Grafton County Drug Court team.

In addition to Marcie’s work as Managing Attorney, she serves on the Littleton Conservation Commission and has been a strong vocal opponent to Northern Pass; she serves on the Board of the Littleton Food Coop and has previously served as a Littleton Library Trustee. Marcie loves Grafton County and all that it offers its residents and visitors. She enjoys being outdoors and loves to play tennis and has found that teaching local kids to play tennis is a great way to counterbalance the stress of her job.

“I welcome this opportunity to be your Grafton County Attorney and look forward to meeting and engaging voters in conversation and understanding the needs and interests of residents and what they think the focus of the Grafton County Attorney’s office should be,” said Hornick. “I want to earn your vote on September 11th to become your Grafton County Attorney.”

Natch Greyes Files for Grafton County Attorney

I am running for Grafton County Attorney because I believe that we can do more to pursue justice and promote the safety and security of Grafton County’s citizens. For the past four years, I’ve been proud to serve the citizens of Littleton, Sugar Hill, and Franconia as their prosecutor. I’ve worked hard to improve the justice system and give victims of crimes the justice they deserve. Now, I’d like to expand that work to a county-wide level.

I am a proponent of alternative sentencing programs, such as Drug Court and Mental Health Court. Those programs make fiscal sense – the Mental Health Court has saved Grafton County Taxpayers nearly $500,000 since it came into existence – and treat problems that a jail sentence or fine cannot.

As the prosecution representative on the Littleton-area Mental Health Court, I was the first person to question why veterans suffering from PTSD and other service-related ailments were not getting connected to the VA and getting services through them. I’ve made that happen.

My work has not been limited to flashy subjects that make headlines. When I learned that there was a disconnect between the police and organizations which provide services to survivors of domestic and sexual violence, I took the initiative to facilitate meetings, learn what law enforcement could do better, and make changes so that survivors could see better outcomes in both the criminal and civil realms.

I’ve been passionate about helping my legislators craft forward-thinking legislation, such as 2017’s HB94, which gave law enforcement better tools to combat human traffickers. Helping fill the gaps in our laws by working on bipartisan legislation such as HB94 ensures that traffickers, and others who prey on our most vulnerable citizens, cannot go free on technicalities.

As Grafton County Attorney, I will work with my partners in the justice system and the legislature on common sense initiatives, like expanding the Grafton County Drug Court to allow-in addicts who commit misdemeanor offenses instead of just those who commit felonies. I want to provide addicts an avenue for recovery before they escalate to breaking into homes and other serious offenses, not after.

Grafton County deserves a County Attorney who not only has the drive, determination, and dedication to focus on the fundamental mission of the County Attorney’s Office – to protect the innocent and convict the guilty – but also the vision to move justice forward, and the record to support it.

Letter to the Editor

Everything is going up, but is your pay check?

Monday, June 25 the Grafton County Delegation, which is made up of Grafton County’s State Representatives, passed the FY-2019 County budget, effective July 1, 2018. The Grafton County Delegation passed a budget that went up approximately 3.8% over last year’s budget. This budget increase includes a large raise for the County Attorney position, a part time

Rebecca,
I agree with you whole heartedly not only on the fact that we all must live within our means, but also that elections are important and we all need to exercise our rights to vote. As with any exercise, however, remember to warm up first.

You can warm up by learning about the candi-

Assistant County Attorney position is now a full time position, a 1.5 % COLA for most of the County employees, and so on. Our elected officials need to stop thinking of us tax payers as an unlimited source of funds! We all have to live within our means, the state, county, and towns should do the same. We have elections coming up, Elections that include County Commissioners, State Representatives, and the County Attorney, dates, and then make an informed decision as to who you want to be in charge of our taxes and the way our money is being spent. To that end I encourage all running for office to write in with your thoughts on today’s issues.

Gary Scruton, Editor

to name a few. The Primary is September 11 and the general election is November 4. I encourage you to ask those that are running where they stand on fiscal responsibility. Elections do have consequences.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

What Should You Do With an Inherited IRA?

Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) are quite popular. At the end of 2017, investors owned nearly $9 trillion in IRA assets, according to the Investment Company Institute, a trade association of U.S. investment companies. Given these numbers, it probably wouldn't be surprising if you inherited an IRA someday. But what should you do with it?

First of all, you'll need to be aware of some basic rules. If your parent, or anyone other than your spouse, leaves you a traditional IRA – one in which contributions are typically tax-deductible and earnings can grow tax-deferred – you can transfer the money into an "inherited IRA," from which you'll need to take at least a minimum amount of money – technically called a "distribution" – each year, based on your life expectancy. These distributions are taxable at your regular income tax rate. If you've inherited a Roth IRA, you also must take these minimum payouts, but the amounts won't count as taxable income, because your parents, or whoever left you the IRA, already paid taxes on the contributions that went into it. (To make sure you fully understand all the guidelines on distributions and taxation of inherited IRAs, consult with your tax advisor.)

It's also important to understand how your inherited IRA will fit in to your overall financial strategy. Consequently, you'll need to address these questions:

How much should I take out each year? As mentioned above, you must take a distribution of at least a minimum amount from your inherited IRA each year – if you don't, you may be subject to a 50% penalty on the amount you should have taken. But you can take out more than the minimum. In deciding how much to take, you'll need to evaluate a few factors. First, of course, is whether you need the extra money to help support your regular cash flow. It's possible you have other pools of income from which to draw, and, in some cases, it may be advantageous for you to tap these sources first. Another consideration is taxes – if you've inherited a traditional IRA, the more you take out each year, the bigger your tax bill may be. Should I keep the same investments? Inheriting an IRA doesn't mean you're stuck with the original account owner's investment choices. You can change the investments to align with your goals and risk tolerance, both of which may change over time.

How does the inherited IRA fit in with my overall financial strategy? You'll need to consider how your newly inherited IRA fits in to the "big picture" of your financial strategy. Are you adding redundancies? If you keep the inherited IRA largely intact, how will it affect your current investment mix? Could the added income from required distributions change your retirement calculations or even enable you to retire earlier? You may want to consult with a financial professional about these and other questions related to your inherited IRA.

The person who left you an IRA worked hard for that money and thought enough of you to pass it on. Consequently, you'll want to respect this inheritance – and get the most out of it for as long as you can.

This year marks the 37th anniversary of the Annual Prouty – a two-day athletic event that includes cycling, walking, or rowing throughout the New England countryside. There are many ways to "Prouty," whether you want to participate in one of the athletic events, volunteer at the event, or donate and fundraise for a team or individual. This event draws over 4,000 individuals to New England and will occur on July 13th and 14th this year.

Jodi and her teammate, Molly Maloy, are participating in the Ulti-Mate Prouty, which is a 200-mile, 2-day cycling event. They will bike 100 miles of Vermont countryside on Friday and complete the last 100 miles on Saturday, biking through the Upper Valley of New Hampshire and Vermont. Each Wild Woman raises funds through friends and family to support this incredible cancer facility. Housewright is a proud sponsor of the Wild Women and wish them the best of luck during this intense event! If you would like to help support these incredible women in pursuing a cure for cancer through this phenomenal event, click the link!

The Zipper

by Elinor Mawson

Laura had a job in a school for developmentally delayed children. The school was divided into a home for girls and one for boys and Laura was in charge of the boys. Most of the time, she made sure they were clean, clothed properly, and attended meals. It wasn't the easiest job in the world but she loved it. She enjoyed watching the boys grow and change and make small improvements in their behavior.

It didn't happen often, but when there was a special trip planned, or a visiting dignitary coming, things ramped up a bit. Laura had to make sure that the boys had on their best clothes, their shoes and socks matched, and their pants and jackets were fastened appropriately. All of these items had to be checked and rechecked since the boys were not accustomed to their different outfits, and Laura had to be quite vigilant.

On one particular day, the boys had to dress up to go to an assembly. An important person was coming to talk to both the boys and the girls in the school, and Laura was at the top of her game. She had the boys line up outside the assembly hall for one last check.

Starting with the youngest, she made sure his zipper was up--it was--and she continued up the line. Every one seemed in order except the last one in line. His zipper was down! So Laura zipped it up.

"Thank you dear", said the owner of the zipper, and Laura looked up. First she saw a clerical collar, and then the face of a priest!

I can't tell you how embarrassed she was. She ran back to the end of the line and led the boys into the hall. She never did remember what the subject of the assembly was, nor who the speaker was. All she wanted to do was hide--but she had to make sure her boys behaved themselves, got back to their dormitory and changed into their regular clothes.

Laura has never been more embarrassed. She blushes to this day when she tells the story. I can't speak for the priest, but I suspect he wanted to forget the whole thing.

What About Ma?

by Kellie Quackenbush

All About Being Hot

June 21 is the official start of Summer and the high temperatures and humidity we have faced since then, supports the fact that Summer is here. After a Winter full of ice and brittle cold, the warmth is welcome but not the hot. What is a person to do?

Let us take each day as it is, watch the weather forecast on the news and prepare accordingly. Have your own indoor/outdoor thermometer so you can be aware of the rising and falling temperatures. Put a large fan in each room to keep a nice air flow. If you don't have air conditioning, invest in either a window unit or a "portable" air conditioner for at least one room where your family can relax and cool off when it is very hot outside.

Drink plenty of fluids and have bottled water on hand in the event of a power outage. Buy one or two bags of ice to keep in the freezer, in the event of a power outage you will want to quickly move them to a cooler with your bottled water. Get new batteries for your flash lights and radios. In the Summer, candles will make you hotter, it is better to have long lasting LED flashlights that provide good light but do not heat up your space any more than the Summer season has. Flashlights are the preferred light-source in a power outage due to safety.

Think health and safety by being prepared for the effects of hot weather. One of the biggest threats to young children and seniors is dehydration, a lack of fluids in the body. In the Summer, the heat reduces your appetite and desire to drink. Be sure to get quality meals throughout the day and try to drink at least 4 ounces of fluid every hour. Have safety "frozen" packs in the freezer, after being outside they provide a quick way to cool down.

On a hot day, the person having the biggest health crisis is the person who is not sweating. This means their body is not sweating to cool them off and they are dehydrated. Time to sit down, drink something and if they vomit and faint, call "911". Please be safe and keep cool.

Your local Senior Center can help you with places to go to keep cool and if you find yourself feeling faint, please call your doctor to have your symptoms evaluated.

REEL Outdoor Film Series

The newly renovated Colonial Theatre in Bethlehem, NH, continues the REEL Outdoors Film Series Friday, July 13 with Mountain. Only three centuries ago, setting out to climb a mountain would have been considered close to lunacy. Mountains were places of peril, not beauty, an upper world to be shunned, not sought out. Why do mountains now hold us spellbound, drawing us into their dominion, often at the cost of our lives? MOUNTAIN is a cinematic and musical collaboration between acclaimed director Jennifer Peedom (SHERPA) and the Australian Chamber Orchestra (ACO), one of the greatest chamber orchestras in the world. Shot by the world's best adventure cinematographers and written by best-selling author Robert Macfarlane, this feature documentary explores the troubled and triumphant history of our timeless fascination with mountains. Future Friday programs include:

July 20 MAMIL: Middle Aged Men In Lycra! At last, the love that can finally be shared -- that of man for bike. We've shaved our legs and we're here to stay! Deal with us, as we sweep down hills on our bikes, stopping for nothing (except maybe a macchiato).

August 17 Dirtbag The Legend of Fred Beckey: Hailed as one of the most influential climbers of all time, Fred Beckey is the original "dirtbag"— one who abandons societal norms and material comforts in pursuit of a nomadic mountaineering lifestyle.

September 21 Blood Road: Blood Road follows the journey of ultra-endurance mountain bike athlete Rebecca Rusch and her Vietnamese riding partner, Huyen Nguyen, as they pedal 1,200 arduous miles along the infamous Ho Chi Minh Trail through the dense jungles of Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia. Their Goal: to reach the newly discovered crash site and final resting place of Rebecca's father, a U.S. Air Force pilot shot down over Laos some 40 years earlier.

October 19 The Moment: (It all had to start somewhere...) This film is the origin story of a small movement of mountain bikers and filmmakers who rose up, challenged the status quo, and turned the sport of cycling on its head. This is a story that has never been told, told by the people who lived it firsthand.

General Admission tickets for the 7:30 showtimes are $10, $8 for Colonial members. All tickets are sold at the door. Concessions include beer and wine, organic popcorn, fine chocolates coffee and tea.

REEL Outdoor is supported by the Appalachian Mountain Club, Lahouts Ski Shop, North Country Climbing Center, Jim & Carrie Hamblin and Rek.Lis Brewing where you can get a complimentary starter after the show!

Spinach Dip

Hello hello my fellow chefs. I hope you enjoyed your 4th of July. I've been making this wonderful dip recipe for many years and hope you like this easy and fun to make Spinach Dip as much as I do.

Cook spinach as directed, drain in colander and press out with a spatula to squeeze out the water.

Cool, then add dry vegetable soup mix, the mayonnaise, sour cream., Mince the water chestnuts and add. Mix well. Chill in refrigerator, this softens the dry soup mix.

Cut deep round circle in the loaf of bread and take

Here's what you will need for this recipe.

2 packages of frozen chopped spinach

1 package of Dry Vegetable soup mix Lipton or store brand. I use Lipton because I think it's spices are tastier.

1 Cup of mayonnaise, 8 oz.

1 Cup of sour cream, 8 oz.

1 small can of Water Chestnuts, 8 oz.

1 Round loaf not sliced bread, your choice. I found it at White's Market.

out middle leaving bread mostly empty. Fill the hollowed bread with the dip. Cut the removed bread in cubes and put around stuffed spinach filled loaf. I put Tostitos Scoops arranged around bread for variety.

When cubes of bread are gone people can break pieces off the loaf. The Scoops do a good job or any cracker that you like. I had some dip left so you can add it to refill the loaf of bread or with your favorite cracker.

I Hope you enjoy this classic Spinach Dip recipe because it's Delicioso!!!

Well folks, until next time, stay well and try this recipe with some wine coolers, beer, or hard lemonade. Drink responsibly. I'm signing off, Cin Pin.
