"So Long Summer - Hello Fall Festival" Returns "On a Tractor"

Phone: 603-747-2887

WRAP's So Long Summer - Hello Fall Festival is returning on September 4th in downtown Wells River from 9am - 2pm. This year's Festival will feature a new event. Wells River Chevrolet is hosting a Classic Tractor Show. Antique tractors of all shapes, sizes and colors, (think Ford Grav. John Deere Green, Farmall Red, and Allis Chalmers Orange) will leave P&H at 10:15am and drive down to Wells River Chevrolet passing through down-by 11am. The tractors will remain at Wells River Chevrolet until 1pm.

Also at 11am there will be a pubséance Sacred Spirit Wellness on Main Street.

The Giant Zucchini Contest, the WRAP Bake Sale at the Welcome Center, and the Baldwin Memorial Library Book Sale will all be returning. Unfortunately the Rubber Balls decided they could not Socially Distance, so the Rubber Ball River Race on the Wells River will not return this year. The Cohase Chamber hopes to have the race running again next year.

Both sides of Main Street will be lined with over 35 booths selling a wide variety town Wells River of items including antiques, handmade crafts, knitted items and linens, CBD products, doll clothes and paper flowers, wreaths, nail polish strips, candles, wind-chimes, photo cards, and prints, yard sale and household items, men's grooming products and toys, plus many more items. Feeling Lucky? A number of raffles and free drawings will be available. Ross-Wood Post #20 American Legion has a gun raffle and money raffle and Cottage Hospital and The Mentoring projects are also having raffles. Tuttle's Diner has two free drawings for $25 gift certificates, Dads 4By Tools is giving away a $50 gift certificate and a power tool and WRAP will have several free drawings for apparel donated by Green Mountain Monogram. New to the Festival this year, Camp Farwell for Girls will have a booth and a drawing for a 2 week Camp stay next summer. Sacred Spirit Wellness, LC Design Concepts and Copies and More will be open. 302 Cares, Central VT Council of Aging, Cohase Chamber, Cottage Hospital, Newbury Historical Society, Newbury Conservation Commission, Tri-Valley Transit and The Mentoring Project will be offering information. Little Rivers Health Care will have Narcan distribution and education at a booth on Main Street, and at the clinic, walk COVID vaccinations. COVID testing will also be available, but registration on State's website strongly recommended.

When Festival Coordinator Richard M Roderick was asked if he had any advice for festival goers? he said. "Come hungry, there will be plenty of food available." "Lady's Heart and Soul Catering, San Song Kitchens, School House Bak-Lucas's Lemonade, Wells River Chevy all have food plus the Happy Hour and Tuttle's Diner, are serving breakfast and lunch". Looking for dessert? "Big Cones is having a special, a small sundae on Saturday for $3" plus many sweet things will be offered at the WRAP Bake Sale.

The Iron Rail Pub + Grill

by Gary Scruton

The Iron Rail Pub + Grill was the scene of the most recent Dining Guide visit for Janice and myself. We made the short trip at a rather short notice on a Friday evening with hopes that seating would be available and that staff was plentiful.

When we pulled into the parking lot it was easy to see that there was already a crowd on hand. But we walked in the big front double doors, made a right then a left down the hallway and as we got to the podium we were met by a host who quickly acknowledged us. took our request to sit outside, and led us to the porch. There we were directed to a high top table for four that was on the end of the covered deck and overlooked a series of picnic tables and a double corn hole game set up. (Which I must add was being well used by some pretty good players).

Our waitress was not long behind us and asked for beverage orders while she left us with the menus. Janice asked for a soda while I asked about on tap Sam Adams. I was told that the summer ale was still on tap, or I could get a bottle of Lager. I asked for the 16 oz. size from the tap.

It was not long before our drinks came back to the table and we were asked if we were ready to order. In a change of normal I went first and for the first time at the Iron Rail asked for a pizza. The menu refers to the pizzas as "wood fired crust". I went with the meat lovers option. Meanwhile Janice was having a tough time deciding on her entree. The waitress offered to assist if she were told the choices. The blackboard mentioned a baked haddock special and she was torn between that and the fish and chips. The waitress offered that the haddock special had a bigger portion and came with two sides. That helped make the call and Janice went with mac & cheese and a garden salad (with ranch dressing) as her two sides.

We also mentioned that the place was busy and asked about staffing (we have heard it has been an issue). Our waitress said there were plenty of wait staff this evening, but they were still a bit short in the kitchen.

Now it was time for us to sit back, enjoy our beverages, and see if we could learn anything about corn hole by watching the games happening just below and to our side. (The only tip I got was to get a high arc on the bean bags, and try to hit the

Even if the kitchen was missing a person or two it did not take long for our meals to come out. Janice's entree was on a nice square solid plate with the salad in a side bowl. My pizza was delivered on a pizza pan. (that worked well for me).

I dug into the pizza knowing full well right from the start that I would not finish all eight pieces. As mentioned I had ordered the meat lovers version. It was just that. The toppings included sausage, hamburg, pepperoni and bacon. The crust was thin and there was very little grease to the crust. I asked for and got a box to take home the four pieces I was unable to eat. (They made a great lunch the next Janice's haddock was, as promised, plentiful. Her mac and cheese side was made with real cheese and tasted creamy and delicious. The side salad was also plentiful with lettuce, onions, tomatoes.cucumbers peppers. The container of ranch dressing was enough to do its job as well.

The total cost of our two meals (actually three) was $42.51. The waitstaff at the Iron Rail uses a hand held machine to take orders as well as to take payment. This means that we simply needed to hand her our credit card, she put it in the machine, we signed it where needed, and it spit out a receipt as requested. Janice also handed our waitress a cash tip as is our custom. The total time for our visit to the Iron Rail was just over an hour.

9-11 Tribute To Be Held in Littleton

The Northern Grafton County Republican Committee would like to invite anyone who is interested to join us for a 9-11 tribute to remember those who lost their lives. Details below.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of that fateful September day, when, for a period of time, the world stopped turning as the U.S. was attacked by a group of Al Qaeda terrorists. That dav was September 11, 2001. This year on Saturday September 11, 2021 we will be holding a 9-11 tribute in memory of all those who died on that tragic day. There were a total of 2977 people who perished, including 343 firefighters, 60 police officers, 8 EMTs, and thousands of innocent civilians. Let us never ever for-

This tribute being held on September 11 will be a somber one. We will be standing (or sitting for those who cannot stand or prefer to sit) in unison and solidarity with American flags, Police flags and Firefighter flags. This is NOT a political event so NO political signs. flags or political clothing please. Please bring any of the above mentioned flags you may have (if anyone has NYPD or FDNY flags please bring them too). We will have some patriotic songs about 9-11 playing in the background.

All are welcome regardless of political affiliation, this is a day to remember those who died and never let them be forgotten. We hope to see you there. THE EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE FROM 8AM to 12 PM on the Knoll next to Mascoma Saving Bank in Littleton.

Hood's Plumbing & Heating, Inc.

After 41 years of 24 Hour Service, I have decided to slow down and spend more time with family.

The business will still remain open Monday thru Friday and we will continue doing installation, as time allows, with a smaller crew.

Thank you for all your past patronage.

of your legislature and the Governor, New Hampshire has become one of the leading states in providing Education Choice for families. New Hampshire is consistently rated as having one of the best education systems in the country. However, despite the success of our K-12 schools, the fact remains that the traditional public school setting may not provide the best learning experience or situation that allows a student to thrive and receive instruction aligned with his or her learning style or academic needs. All children deserve access to a quality education that best suits their learning needs. With the passage of Education Freedom Accounts (EFA's are not a voucher program), HB2 was a significant achievement in the fight to make this goal a reality.

As of August 25, families materials, curriculum, edu-

Thanks to the hard work can apply to have their child enrolled in an EFA. EFAs provide families, whose income is below 300% of the federal poverty level, to use their state education aid (approximately $4600 per student) to customize their child's education. I encourage eligible parents to consider this program.

With the passage of HB2, the State of New Hampshire created the new Education Freedom Accounts (EFA) program to help expand educational opportunities for New Hampshire children. The application for the 2021-22 school year is now open and eligible families can apply to have a portion of their child's state education funding pay for a range of educational expenses. Home schooling students are eligible for this program.

Possible educational expenses include: instructional

Who Is Eligible:

- 1. You must be a New Hampshire resident;
- 2. Your child must be at least 5 years old and no older than 20 years of age and entering Kindergarten -12th grade;
- 3. Your family's income must be at or below 300% of the federal poverty level guidelines shown in the chart below; and

Building Community Thru The Arts Closes Season With Two Steelar Events

by Eileen Regen

The Building Community Through the Arts sponsored by Bethlehem Hebrew Congregation ends the 2021 season with two remarkable programs.

The White Mountain Jewish Film Festival presents "Thou Shalt Not Hate," Thursday, September 2, at the Colonial Theatre, Bethlehem. The evening begins at 6 p.m. with the popular gathering for a light reception on the theatre patio. The film begins at 7 p.m.

"Thou Shalt Not Hate" opens with a traffic accident and a split-second decision that triggers repercussions for a Jewish surgeon and a neo-Nazi's daughter. In this drama. Simone potent (Alessandro Gassmann), a Holocaust survivor's son, rushes to the scene of a hitand-run. But when he sees a swastika tattoo on the victim's chest, he leaves the gravely wounded man to his fate. Wracked with guilt, the anguished doctor confronts the ethics of his choice, and bonds with the victim's daughter Marcia (Sara Serraiocco), embroiling himself in greater conflict. Posing profound questions about redemption and the paradoxes of the human soul in the face of hate, this provocative parable was winner of the Best Italian Film and Best Actor awards at the Venice International Film Festival.

Tickets may be purchased at the Colonial's ticket booth beginning at 5:30 p.m. on the day of the film presentation. Cash or credit cards are accepted. The White Mountain Jewish Film Festival adheres to the Colonial Theatre's health and safety requirements which can be read online at https://bethlehemcolonial.or g/reopening. Seating will be limited, so come early and enjoy the complimentary refreshments on the patio followed by this special film presentation at 7 p.m.

Begin your Labor Day Weekend enjoying an emotional performance by the Tempest Trio live in Bethlehem. Co-sponsored by the Bethlehem Hebrew Congregation Sounds of the Sanctuary and the Consulate General of Israel in New England, this concert begins at 5 p.m., Friday, September 3 in the Bethlehem Hebrew Congregation sanctuary on Strawberry Hill Street in Bethlehem. Doors will open at 4:45 p.m.

The trio features Alon Goldstein, piano, Amit Peled, cello, and Ilya Kaler, violin. Over the years, concertgoers have enjoyed the individual performances by two of the Tempest Trio's members: Israeli-American pianist Alon Goldstein inaugurated our series in the winter of 2015, and then followed with two more solo recitals in subsequent years. Israeli-American cellist Amit Peled, performed in 2017 (accompanied by Elizabeth Borowsky) and in 2019 (accompanied by Noreen Polera). We welcome Goldstein and Peled back to BHC together with violinist Ilya Kaler as the Tempest Trio. The Trio will perform Beethoven's Trio, op. 1; Stutschewsky's Hasidic Fantasy; and Dvorak's Piano Trio no. 4 in e minor, op. 90, "Dumky."

Combining technical mastery, expressive depth, and performance experience, Goldstein, Kaler, and Peled have joined forces to form one of the most exciting trios on the international scene. Each virtuoso member of the ensemble has a successful solo career, and together they bring vitality to the concert stage with their dynamic musical interplay and collaborative spirit. The Tempest Trio has been recently compared by critics to the legendary "Million Dollar Trio" of Arthur Rubinstein, Gregor Piatigorsky, and Jascha Heifetz.

The Tempest Trio has performed in cities throughout the US, Europe, Israel, and Asia and has been known to share with the public unique and exotic programs ranging from the standard repertoire Haydn, Beethoven, Brahms, and Dvorak, to newly commissioned pieces as well as lesser known repertoire by Bernstein, Bloch and Amy Beach. They also presented to critical acclaim the complete Schumann, Brahms, and Dvorak trio cvcles at the Seattle Chamber Music Festival and to the Four Arts Society in Palm Beach. They have performed Beethoven's Triple Concerto in Chicago, Washington, DC, and Palm Beach, Florida. The Tempest Trio was the ensemble in residence at the Heifetz International Music Festival and Cape Cod Chamber Music Festival.

The 2020/21 season will mark the trio's 14th anniversary season and will include concerts throughout the US and Europe. At their first tour in New Zealand, they will perform the Beethoven Triple Concerto with the Grand Park Orchestra in Chicago, and they will continue their recording project for the Naxos label of the Beethoven Trios.

As committed pedagogues, the members of the Tempest Trio are all teaching in prestigious universities and summer festivals around the world and share their knowledge, experience, and joy of musicmaking through intensive educational residencies, masterclasses, and lectures which they offer during each season.

Due to Covid restrictions, we encourage everyone to book early and purchase tickets online at Catamount Arts: https://bit.ly/3mlhusy. This will help to prevent crowding at the entrance door to the sanctuary.

Seating will be limited so reserve tickets early. All seats will be physically distanced for patrons' safety, and all who attend this concert are expected to be fully vaccinated and wearing a mask for personal safety and that of others.

If you are unable to purchase tickets online, please have a check or exact cash ready when you come to the concert. Tickets are $25 for the general public and $20 for members of BHC.

Woodsville Wells River 4th of July Annual Meeting

Labor Day will soon be here marking the traditional end of summer. The very next day, Tuesday, September 7 will be the date for the annual meeting of the Woodsivlle Wells River 4th of July Celebration Committee. That's right, this committee meets year round in order to put on a one day celebration of this nation's birthday.

The annual meeting will feature final numbers (or very close to final) from the 2021 celebration as well as a proposed budget for the 2022 celebration. The meeting will also include the elction of officers to run this 501C(3) non-profit organization for the coming year.

There is a great need for members of the general public to step up and keep this organization running. There is not a need to run the show, or even to put in a ton of hours. Just some help making decisions, showing a path, and maybe making some phone calls or sending some emails. The more people involved, the easier the tasks will be for every-

To be factual there is a $1 annual membership fee for the organization, but membership is not limited by residence. Anyone in Woodsville, Wells River or any other area town or village is more than welcomed to join the organization and help in the decision making for next year and year's to come

The 2021 celebration was great. We hope we can do the same in 2022, but without your help it will be difficult. At present there is a core of only six members. That means a lot of work for each one. Your help and even the help of your neighbors would be greatly appreciated and welcomed.

Please come to the Woodsville Community Field on Tuesday, September 7th at 7:00 PM for the annual meeting of the Woodsivlle Wells River 4th of July Celebration Committee. We will certainly welcome you.

DAR Held Annual Meeting With A Cowboy In The Woods

The White Mountains Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, met on August 16, 2021, at Forest Lake State Park in Dalton, NH.

Wayne Saunders, retired Lieutenant Conservation Officer from the NH Fish and Game Department, was the guest speaker. He is the coauthor of "A Cowboy in the Woods," the first book in his Junior Game Warden Series. He also hosts the popular Podcast Wardens Watch.

Wayne shared that his childhood experiences in the woods of New Hampshire led to his career as a Conservation Officer. "A Cowboy in the Woods" was inspired by one encounter when he was six years old. He discussed his collaboration with Lindsav Webb. co-author, and Ashley Mayers, illustrator. Following the presentation, Wayne signed copies of his book for attendees.

Following the meeting a loon on Forest Lake serenaded members and guests as they enjoyed a picnic lunch.

The Chapter's commitment to public service includes sponsorship through the Adopt A Highway program of a two-mile section of Route 116 near Forest Lake in Whitefield, NH. The next cleanup is Monday, September 13, 2021. Members should meet behind the Whitefield Public Library at 9 AM.

Membership the in Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) is open to any woman 18 years or older who can prove lineal descent from a Revolutionary War patriot. For more information about joining the

LISBON - The season's change is a great time to slow down, reflect, and tune in to ourselves and the natural world. Ammonoosuc Conservation Trust (ACT) is offering two opportunities to do just that in September. ACT is bringing back its Mindfulness Series, with two opportunities for a peaceful outdoor yoga practice for all ages and abilities.

Join us on either Saturday, Sept. 11 or 25 at 10 am for an hour-long class overlooking ACT conservation land on Pearl Lake in Lisbon. Katrine Barclay from Wellness AT Work (09/11) and Stacey Doll from Rooted by Stacey (09/25) will lead a class each. Whether you are a yoga first timer or seasoned practitioner, you'll enjoy individual instruction and an emphasis on listening to your own body. Enjoy yoga outside in a safe, accessible and FUN way with a great view from a private home.

Program cost is $10/person (per class) to support ACT's land conservation efforts as well as class instruction. Advanced registration is required. Please register on the web at www.actnh.org/education-events or call the office at (603) 823-7777. You must be registered to receive details of the meeting location. Ready to sign up for the whole series? You can request registration for both classes in one, just check the box at the bottom of the registration page.

ACT is all about community coming together to enjoy the outdoors and honor our natural environment. This series is intended to do the same by bringing us together to honor ourselves in nature as a community!

The Ammonoosuc Conservation Trust is the North Country's lands conservancy, protecting land for the vitality and well-being of our region. Learn about our other workshops and outdoor recreation or become a member at act-nh.org or by calling (603) 823-7777.

HAVERHILL, PIERMONT, ORFORD,

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor,

In October, 1781, British Lt. General, Lord Charles Cornwallis surrendered to General George Washington at the Battle of Yorktown in Virginia, pretty much ending the Revolutionary War. The world was turned upside-down. Like Joe Biden hiding (cowering) in Camp David after abandoning Afghanistan to the murderous Taliban, Cornwallis also was hiding in his camp. He feigned illness surrendering his sword to General Washington via an underling. Brilliantly, this prompted Washington to appoint one of his assistants to accept Cornwallis' sword of surrender. America gained its independence while Great Britain lost part of its Empire, world-wide prestige, and vast political power, not to mention control of the vast natural resources of America ... timber, coal, fur, gold, silver, and the list goes on and on. They spent millions of pounds (British currency) to finance the war, and lost more after British defeat to the Americans.

Again, the world turned upside-down when Napoleon, on June 18, 1815, lost at the Battle of Waterloo resulting in loss of power and prestige for France, and the ability to more easily export its traditional culture. Similarly, Napoleon was deposed, and France, like Great Britain in the loss of the Revolutionary War, spent much in money and men, and lost much afterwards.

What do we expect of Joe Biden's fumbling and bumbling with his surrender to the Taliban in Afghanistan? Similar expectations as those which occurred in the first two scenarios?! Let's look at the facts.

In addition to losing trillions of taxpayers' dollars in weapons, infrastructure, and training over 20 years, thousands of US servicemen where I sit.

be one. But let me make a couple of points from the war in Vietnam. Both lasted far too long, took way too much money, and most importantly took way too many US lives. One other point is that both wars lasted over a number of administrations, both Democratic and Republican.

I see the war in Afghanistan to be similar to and women have lost limbs and lives to this lengthy endeavor. The will of the US military under the present command in the White House to the Defense Department to the General staff seem unwilling to commit to the fight, as in the case of the British after losing in America in 1781, and the French after losing to the British in Belgium in 1815.

Additionally, America has lost influence and prestige around the world with our Allies and those we claim to protect through our international treaties. Do you think South Koreans are resting easy with this Middle East fiasco? How about Taiwan (formerly, the island of 'Formosa' named by the Portuguese for "beautiful island")...do you think the Taiwanese are assured of America's long-standing commitment to protect their independence from Mainland Communist China?

Who is going to TRUST America after this sudden abandonment of its own citizens, and those who acted as translators, guides, and adherents of Western culture? What about the safety of those women and girls who were promised "human rights" of education and Western freedom without return to Sharia Law for the last 20 years?

Where are the thousands of voices of the American female "Progressives" of the Democrat Party who demand "Women's Rights" for the last 50 or so years? Why are they so silent?

In the words of retired General BB Ball: "America will be known as an unreliable, bankrupt, ex-world power. Traditional friends and Allies will no longer look to America for leadership as an example of the strength offered by free, democratic, capitalistic, and Judeo-Christian ideals. The age of Socialism, Communism, and Dictatorial Theocracy is now shadowing the entire globe. Freedom's Beacon has turned off for the former Free World and all who aspire for Liberty. All this at the feeble hands of an incompetent and senile old man guided by unelected, gutless, Socialist, anti-American ideologues who control his every move."

It's time for Joe Biden to resign, be impeached, and certainly not re-elected. He has demonstrated that he is unfit to hold the crucial position of President of the United States!

Sadly, NH voters facilitate this Administration's ineptness by sending a quartet of "Liberal," "Socialist," "Progressive," ie "Communist" America-haters to Washington, DC. Democrats Shaheen, Hassan, Pappas, and Kuster can be relied upon to always tow the Party Line by supporting every destructive Democrat proposal that Pelosi, Harris, Schumer, and The Squad dream up. These include Leftist/Communist ideas like "federalizing" our elections, banning voter ID proposals, eliminating the Electoral College...proposals which do not help New Hampshire nor America. They always seem to support every stupid, America-destroying notion proposed by this clueless occupant in the White House. The next fiasco for the New Hampshire and American taxpayer is the $3.5 Trillion Reconciliation Bill, the key to Biden's Agenda.

This has to stop!

Vote for conservative candidates next time around.

of the military. Without wars there is no need for I am not a political pundit, nor do I claim to their jobs. Is that to say all military want war? I would not say that. I am sure there are some in the military who think peace is a better way of life. But wars do continue around the globe, and probably will for centuries to come.

> same advice I would give to a teenager, pick your battles. You will not win them all. So be prepared for which ever way the battle ends. Life will go on, even if it is altered.

Also, neither one ended well for the US. I have heard it said that wars are the business

Recently I hosted a "Butterfly Count" on our Tree Farm on the south side of Mt. Cube in Orford. NH. George DeWolf, from Wentworth, is the coordinator of the only butterfly count held in New Hampshire that reports data to the North American Butterfly Assocatioin (NABA.org). He was particularly interested in obtaining access to our property because it gave counters access to butterfly habitat above 2000 feet.

I had the pleasure of spending the day with this group, catching, observing, recording and then releasing many different butterflies. As an amateur photographer for years I have enjoyed photographing these beautiful butterflies on our Tree Farm along with other wildlife and using them on my Tree Farm cards.

The list and count of butterflies species found was compiled by George DeWolf to be shared with NABA to be included in their annual count report. If you are interested in next year"s Butterfly Count or have any questions, please contact George at e-mail address bakerpondbutterfiles@gmail .com.

Start Thinking About Your Retirement Income Plan

If you're getting close to retirement, you're probably thinking about the ways your life will soon be changing. And one key transition involves your income - instead of being able to count on a regular paycheck, as you've done for decades, you'll now need to put together an income stream on your own. How can you get started?

It's helpful that you begin thinking about retirement income well before you actually retire. Many people don't - in fact, 61% of retirees wish they had done better at planning for the financial aspects of their retirement, according to an Edward Jones/Age Wave study titled Retirement in the Time of Coronavirus: What a Difference a Year Makes.

Fortunately, there's much you can do to create and manage your retirement income. Here are a few suggestions:

· Consider ways to boost income. As you approach retirement, you'll want to explore ways of potentially boosting income. your

Can you afford to delay taking Social Security so your monthly checks will be bigger? Can you increase your contributions to your 401(k) or similar employersponsored retirement plan, including taking advantage of catch-up contributions if you're age 50 or older? Should you consider adding products that can provide you with an income stream that can potentially last your lifetime?

- Calculate your expenses. How much money will you need each year during your retirement? The answer depends somewhat on your goals. For example, if you plan to travel extensively, you may need more income than someone who stays close to home. And no matter how you plan to spend your days in retirement, you'll need to budget for health care expenses. Many people underestimate what they'll need, but these costs can easily add up to several thousand dollars a year, even with Medicare.
- Review your investment mix. It's always a good idea to review your investment mix at least once a year to ensure it's still appropriate for your needs. But it's especially important to analyze your investments in the years immediately point, you may need to adjust the mix to lower the risk level. However, you probably won't want to sell all your growth-oriented investments and replace them with more conservative ones - even during retirement, you'll likely need some growth potential in your portfolio to help you stay ahead of inflation.

· Create a sustainable withdrawal rate. Once you're retired, you will likely need to start taking money from your IRA and 401(k) or similar plan. But it's important not to take too much out in your early years as a retiree, since you don't want to risk outliving your income. A financial professional can help you create a sustainable withdrawal rate based on your age, level of assets, family situation and other

By planning ahead, and making the right moves, you can boost your confidence in your ability to maintain enough income to last throughout your retirement. And with a sense of financial security, you'll be freer to enjoy an active lifestyle during your years as a re-

Dog Mountain 20th Anniversary Celebration Dog Party! Saturday, October 2nd

ST. JOHNSBURY, VER-MONT - On Saturday, October 2nd, Dog Mountain, Home of Stephen Huneck Gallery, is hosting the 20th Anniversary Celebration Dog Party!

2020 marked the 20th anniversary of the Dog Chapel at Dog Mountain. Often considered Stephen Huneck's greatest and most personal artistic contribution, the Dog Chapel was introduced to the world in 2000 as a symbol of peace, love, and remembrance. In the 20 years since, it has been transformed into a living piece of communal art and history, ever evolving with each new memorial of a beloved pet pinned to its overflowing walls. The Dog Chapel has become a unique and moving physical embodiment of the unending love people course, magic show, raffle held rain or shine. have to give. Although 20th anniversary celebrations were delayed for a year due to the pandemic, Dog Mountain is excited to celebrate the anniversary -- and recent restoration of the Dog

Linens In The Chain Of Life

by Maggie Anderson

Monday night as my plane descended onto the tarmac in Salt Lake City I found myself scanning the horizon for a twinkle of lights wending their way up the mountainside, searching for a point that marked the location of Wasatch Hot Springs where I used to love to swim.

Later, while talking with a young woman in the airport, I was startled to hear myself say " Sixty years ago when I was a girl I attended Central Junior High School here. I was part of the number one volley ball team in the whole district."

The statement itself is surprising simply because at 4'10" it was a miracle I even made the team, but I have come to realize we are often more surprised by our own words than those we are speaking to. Sometimes my words bring to mind conversations with people who were younger then than I am now, people who shared stories about their lives, stories that made me see them in a more reverential light. Stories of hardship peppered with offhanded remarks about how they weathered life's difficulties, how those difficulties helped to make them stronger and created in them a greater sense of gratitude for all they had.

I remember other conversations too, some that made me laugh until the tears obscured my vision. When I was celebrating my 30th birthday with friends and family I ran into an elderly woman powdering her nose in front of the gilded mirror in the ladies' room. Having heard some of the celebration, she asked me how old I was and whether I had yet begun to lie about my age. When I told her I never lied about my age she said, "Honey, you have to start doing what I do, I always tell people I'm ten years older than I actually am and they think I look fantastic." I remember her on every birth-

I wonder if the young woman at the airport will remember anything of our conversation fifty years from now

The Morrison Communities to Recognize Staff for Their 'Compassion, Community, Caring'

WHITEFIELD The Morrison Communities, includes which Sartwell Place Assisted Living and The Summit by Morrison Assisted Living, will join facilities across the country during National Assisted Living Week, September 12-18, in celebrating the individuals who live and work in assisted living.

This year's theme, "Compassion, Community, Caring," reflects "the hard work and dedication of all the essential caregivers in assisted living communities during the COVID-19 pandemic," said National Center for Assisted Living Executive Director Scott Tittle. "It also represents the importance of family and remaining connected, even when we could not physically be together."

"Our caring and compassionate staff is incredible," said The Morrison Communities Executive Director Shannon Lynch. "We appreciate what they bring to their jobs every day, but this week gives us the opportunity to recognize their dedication in a more formal way with small gifts and special events honoring them and our residents."

During these difficult months of the Covid-19 pandemic, "Our staff not only cared for our residents on a daily basis, they continually went above and beyond, standing in for family and providing love and companionship when we were closed to visitors and so many of our protocols had to be shifted to keep residents safe," Lynch said. "We know we can't ever replace family, but during these months our developed strong bonds with the residents just like watchful neighbors do in a tight-knit community. I couldn't be prouder of them!

Assisted living facilities like Sartwell Place and Summit by Morrison offer a broad range of services to seniors who want to maintain a level of independence, but need some assistance with the activities of daily living such as medication management, meal preparation, house-keeping, laundry and bathing.

For seniors who require additional care beyond assisted living, The Morrison Communities offers both long-term care and skilled nursing and rehabilitative care following surgery, an injury or acute illness at the Morrison Nursing Home campus and a Memory Care unit at the Summit campus.

The Morrison Communities is a nonprofit 501 (c)(3) charitable community that has been providing quality healthcare to residents of New Hampshire's North Country since 1903. Located on two campuses in Whitefield, the original Morrison building includes Morrison Skilled Nursing, Sartwell Place Assisted Living, and both Inpatient and Outpatient Rehabilitation. The Summit by Morrison continuum of care campus provides Independent Living, Assisted Living and Memory Care options. For more information, go to www.themorrisoncommunities.org.

All About The The Stove Fire

Recently, a friend sent 2021. pictures and a social media post about the kitchen fire his dog had started at his home. It was very lucky for my friend that he lives in a fairly populated part of town and someone saw the smoke and called 911. My friend was at work and the fire was out when he got home.

How on earth could a fire start while nobody was home?? His dog was home and there was something left on the stove that smelled good. Seeing the photo's with the damage that was caused was rather shocking. However, this is not an isolated incident.

"It's not the first dogs turned into accidental arsonists. Pets actually cause up to 1,000 fires each year." per insideedition.com, April 9, Dogheirs.com, 2018, "A family's home was recently set on fire by their Golden Retriever stealing left over pancakes off a stove. The Golden Retriever jumped onto the stove to grab the food but accidentally turned on the gas." and another story from The Oakland Press, July 16, 2021 by Nick Mordowanec, "(after the fire was put out, the owner) looked at a recording from an indoor security camera which showed Finn had pressed and turned a burner control knob while trying to reach a cotton candy maker left atop the stove from the night before."

The common thread between all of these fires was that the dog was after a "treat" left on the stove. For people going to work or leaving the dogs alone to roam the house unattended, the bottom line is to clean up your stove and not leave food on or near the stove. It may be that pets need their own room or space to be enclosed in while the family is sleeping or away at work.

When I looked up "dogs starting fires" there were several articles and many were recent events. They are even posted on "youtube", footage from security cameras, showing exactly what happened. There are many lessons to draw from this but the one that I think pertains to all of my readers, with or without pets, is to make sure you have a working smoke detector in your home. The smoke detector saved many of these families as the incidents happened while they were home sleeping.

Ma has had the smoke alarm go off many times in her later years, she would be happily sitting on the sofa petting her little dog and completely forgot that she had put something on the stove. We have replaced at least six tea pots and I could not put a number to the pans. Of course, this also was our sign that Ma needed a bit more help during the day. Thankfully, we realized the need and found a family friend to help out.

Moving forward, please check your smoke detectors and make sure they are in good working condition. Do not leave left-overs or any type of food on top of your stove if you have pets. Pay attention to cooking errors or burned tea kettles as it may be a sign of changing times. Always have insurance, even when you are renting, fires cause a great deal of damage and are costly.

The USSR #4

by Elinor P. Mawson

Editor's Note: These articles are being taken directly from Elinor's notebook from her trip to the USSR in 1988.

What an exciting and exhausting day this was!

After a breakfast of "Moscow Mystery Puff" we went to school #20 to do our lessons. Everyone was loaded down with gifts and plans.

The school is grades 0-12, up stairs and down steps in all directions. Like all places we have been, (not on the Intourist routes!) it is at least 30 years behind the US and in many cases, more than that. The school is basically run by women, although an 85 year old man was principal until he retired last year. The gym is huge and antiquated. The lunchroom is the same; the Readiness class is in a section that is architecturally amazing.

My husband and I are in "Form 4-A -- the kids are comparable in age and size with our kids. They all stood up when we came in until I told them they could sit. There were exactly 24, thank goodness I had enough crayons! I explained the quilt with the teacher's help; they were fascinated with the pictures by the students in my class at home. Then I passed out the crayons and white cotton squares while telling them what I wanted from them. Some set right to work and others dawdled -- just like in America. The time passed so quickly! I noticed that many of the kids talked and "peace" on their squares. At the end of the time, I told them an American folk tale. When I announced that they could keep their crayons, they all drew in their breaths at once. They wanted us to sign the crayon boxes, which we did. We took pictures of each child holding up their square so my kids could see who drew what (my kids were fascinated by these photos.) It was an elating 45 minutes.

Afterwards the teacher gave me some carnations and some fabulous swan shaped cream puffs to have with tea.

We toured the school. In a sewing class were 11year-old girls making skirts. They used either a treadle sewing machine or a crank one. One girl would be sewing and the other one would be cranking. They were wellbehaved even if the teacher wasn't there.

After school we went to a restaurant with some of the teachers and had the best meal since Finnair. It was 4 courses: a jellied meat with vegetables, fresh raw chicken salad and pickled cabbage, then borscht with sour cream, then veal chop, potatoes and more pickled carrots a la Viet Nam; then ice cream and tea. The administrator said she couldn't eat ice cream in the winter because it hurt her throat.

They seemed a little more relaxed and happy at dinner, but I sensed a feeling of futility: "Perhaps things will change"".

Up until today I couldn't believe I was here, now after meeting Mark last night and these teachers today, there is no doubt that we are in the USSR.

Anytime we asked specific questions, e.g. Learning disabled or computers, the subject was abruptly changed.

Russia's children know more change than their parents could ever dream of .-

Next: a train ride to Leningrad.

"A Look at Local Civil War Stories" at Alumni Hall 15

The Haverhill Historical Society invites you to a presentation by Michelle Arnosky Sherburne — "A Look at Local Civil War Stories" to take place on Tuesday August 31 at 7:00 PM at Alumni Hall 75 Court St. in Haverhill Corner. This event is free and open to the public. The venue is handicapped accessible.

Michelle Arnosky Sherburne, a Vermont author from Newbury, has done extensive research of the Civil War based on soldiers' journals and letters, thus the personal perspective of the soldiers' own words. Sherburne will share how New Hampshire and Vermont soldiers represented different aspects of the war -- Dr. Williams Child, surgeon during War; the George brothers in Newbury; a Sherburne ancestor from Peacham who survived Andersonville Prison: and a new discovery of war letters and orders found in a Pier-mont home. Apart from this presentation, Sherburne has researched and written more specifically on other Civil War topics: the St. Albans Raid, the Lincoln Assassination Conspirators and the Andersonville Prison as they relate locally. Included in this presentation will be a review of local Civil War monuments.

Orange Creamsicle Cookies

Hello hello my fellow chefs! I'm wondering how you handled the humidity we had and the hurricane remnants we received. I didn't experience any bad weather. My son Nick on the other hand in Rhode Island got hit hard. He has been without power for 2 days. I don't like losing power and I've been lucky for a while now.

I had my house painted and I love it. Next I'm waiting for the roof contractor to start, he said September so I'm excited about that. There is always something when you own a house. Well okay let's get started with today's recipe and how to make it.

Ingredients
2 1/2 Cups all purpose

flour

3/4 tsp baking powder 1/2 tsp salt

1 Cup or two sticks of butter softened

1/2 Cup white sugar 1/2 Cup packed brown sugar

1 Large egg

1 tsp vanilla extract

The zest from 2 oranges you need 2 Tbsp zest. The zest is very important.

12 oz package of white chocolate chip morsels.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

In medium bowl combine flour, baking soda and salt with a whisk, set aside. In large bowl or your mixing bowl cream the softened butter and add both sugars one at a time and mix. Add the egg, vanilla extract, and orange extract and the flour one cup at a time until all incorporated. Fold in the orange zest and the white chocolate chips. Remember when you zest the oranges just get the orange peel not the white part of the orange. I used a cookie scoop which made it very easy. You should invest in one, it was great.

Put parchment paper in your cookie sheet and scoop 1 1/2 Tbsp dough and put on baking sheet. Don't flatten they will relax and spread a little. Bake for 8-10 minutes until the edges are light golden brown. Don't overcook Let cool on the cookie sheet for 10 minutes. Carefully remove with a spatula and put on wire rack to cool completely. I ended up with 35 cookies.

That's it a "Delicioso" cookie that your family will love and it's easy peasy! I shared mine with Jane and a couple of neighbors. The zest gives you a true orange flavor. I know zesting is a pain in the neck but it's worth it. Treat yourself and your family. Cover with plastic wrap or container to store them.

Well folks that's it for today's recipe. I hope you enjoy this wonderful cookie. Stay healthy and keep your masks handy. We can beat this pandemic. Until next time my friends I am signing off.

Sincerely, Cin Pin
